VIKINGS COMMUNITY CHEERLEADING- Code of Conduct

In an effort to provide a safe, fun and nurturing environment, the following guidelines will be in place for members of the Vikings Community Cheerleading Squad, coaches, and parents/guardians. These rules will help promote good sportsmanship as well as aid in the formation of a close bond between squad members while, at the same time, teaching each child to be responsible for their own behavior and its effects on their squad.

COACHES / MANAGERS/BOARD

VCC Coaches, Managers and Board members will:

1. Encourage teamwork, positive attitudes, and good sportsmanship. Each VCC coach will be responsible for the appropriate conduct of herself and encourage the same for her cheerleaders.
2. Always be fair, firm and consistent, promote a positive attitude, and lead by example.
3. Stress teamwork and respect with each and every cheerleader, listen to their concerns and help in any way.
4. Not engage in inappropriate behavior or verbal abuse towards any cheerleader, parent, or fan.

PARENTS / GUARDIANS

VCC Parents will:

1. Set the right example by always demonstrating and encouraging positive sportsmanship.
2. Notify a VCC board member and coaches if their child will miss practice or performance due to illness, family vacation, or another unique situation. Otherwise, attendance is mandatory. If a cheerleader is excessively absent, he/she may or may not be able to perform in the next competition.
3. Support the efforts of the coaches and of VCC.
4. Never argue with, use profanity, or voice complaints/concerns with a coach, parent, or any other community member in front of the children.
5. Praise your child's efforts and offer your support.
6. Make the board aware of any concerns or issues so that they can be addressed promptly and proactively.

CHEERLEADERS

VCC Cheerleaders will:

1. Focus on teamwork, helping others, and giving their personal best during practices to learn the dances and cheers with a positive attitude. Negative responses, lack of productivity, and disrespect will not be tolerated.
2. Never make rude, snide or discriminatory comments about a fellow squad member or a member of another squad. If there is an issue of any type, you need to let your coach and parent know.
3. Never bring up the topic of weight between squad members. While healthy nutrition is essential to a good performance, athletes should only be concerned with their own diets, not the diets of others.
4. Understand that tumbling and stunting is extremely serious. If athletes are not paying full attention, someone could get hurt. There will be NO talking while we are learning new stunting and tumbling skills. This is to ensure the safety of all involved.
5. Represent the Vikings Community Cheerleading squad in a positive manner at all times, whether in or out of uniform. While at practices, performances and competitions you will be supportive of your squad and display great sportsmanship— especially during competition season, whether you win or lose. When we win, we will be joyous without being haughty. If we lose, we will do so graciously by congratulating the winning squad.
6. Remember that one person does not cause the squad to win or lose. The entire squad is responsible for the outcome of a competition. We will not place blame for a falling stunt or a forgotten dance step.
7. Be prepared to WORK. This means that when you are at practice you need to listen to your coaches carefully and follow directions. Each cheerleader is expected to be respectful and pay attention at all times.
8. Talk to a coach and your parent if any problems arise. Anything can be worked out if we are made aware of a problem, but if we don't know about it, we can't fix it.
9. You will attend all practices and events, unless you have informed the coaches in advance that you will not be able to attend.
10. You will be responsible for all of your uniform pieces and have each part of your uniform with you, in your bag, at every game and event.

I have read the rules of conduct for the Vikings Community Cheerleading Squad. I agree to abide by the rules of conduct while I am a member of the squad so that I can be the best cheerleader and teammate that I can be!

INHERENT RISKS OF CHEERLEADING

Cheerleading is an anaerobic/aerobic sport/activity that includes jumping, stunting, motions, and tumbling, which can therefore lead to injury. All physicals must be on file in the school before the student can participate in practices or games. Coaches should be informed of any injury or chronic conditions. Although the probability of injury is minimized if you practice correctly, there is always the possibility of an injury occurring. Injuries that can occur in cheerleading include but are not limited to the following: blisters, muscle strains, ligament sprains, joint and muscle soreness, abrasions, contusions, stress fractures, broken bones, spinal cord injuries involving paralysis and even death. However, if you take certain precautions, the possibility of such injuries may be largely decreased. Be sure to abide by the following:

1. Never stunt or tumble unless a coach is present.
2. Always practice in the presence of a qualified coach.
3. Always warm-up appropriately before practices and games by jogging and stretching.
4. Do not attempt a stunt that you do not know how to perform safely and that has not been cleared by the coach.
5. Always use attentive spotters when stunting.
6. Always use mats or a grassy area when stunting during practices and games.
7. Always cheer in an area free from obstructions.
8. Do not stunt on uneven ground, wet surfaces, or concrete. Do not stunt in rainy weather.
9. Never talk, laugh, or goof around when performing or learning a stunt.
10. Report injuries to the coach immediately after they occur.
11. Follow all trainer and doctor recommendations.
12. Lift weights to increase strength and guard against injuries.
13. Always wear cheer shoes and clothing appropriate for practicing or performing in.
14. Never wear jewelry of any kind or chew gum when cheering, including during practices and games.
15. Always have your hair completely pulled back from your face and shoulders. There should be no strands of hair dangling down and fly aways should be slicked back
16. Eat nutritious meals, drink a lot of water, and get plenty of rest.
17. Always ask for assistance or advice at any time.
18. Do not stunt or tumble when game is in process.
19. Never show off.
20. Take all activities seriously.
21. Do not participate in cheerleading if you are running a fever or are throwing up.

I have read the preceding warning. I thoroughly appreciate and understand the assumption of risks inherent in cheerleading participation. I acknowledge that I am physically fit and voluntarily participating in the activity of cheerleading.

Vikings Community Cheerleading - Concussion Information Sheet

A concussion is a brain injury and all brain injuries are serious. They are caused by a bump, blow, or jolt to the head, or by a blow to another part of the body with the force transmitted to the head. They can range from mild to severe and can disrupt the way the brain normally works. Even though most concussions are mild, all concussions are potentially serious and may result in complications including prolonged brain damage and death if not recognized and managed properly. In other words, even a “ding” or a bump on the head can be serious. You can’t see a concussion and most sports concussions occur without loss of consciousness. Signs and symptoms of concussion may show up right after the injury or can take hours or days to fully appear. If your child reports any symptoms of a concussion, or if you notice the symptoms or signs of a concussion yourself, seek medical attention right away.

What can happen if my child keeps on playing with a concussion or returns to soon?

Athletes with the signs and symptoms of concussion should be removed from play immediately. Continuing to play with the signs and symptoms of a concussion leaves the young athlete especially vulnerable to greater injury. There is an increased risk of significant damage from a concussion for a period of time after that concussion occurs, particularly if the athlete suffers another concussion before completely recovering from the first one. This can lead to prolonged recovery, or even to severe brain swelling (second impact syndrome) with devastating and even fatal consequences. It is well known that adolescent or teenage athletes will often under report symptoms of injuries. And concussions are no different. As a result, education of administrators, coaches, parents and students is the key for student-athlete's safety.

If you think your child has suffered a concussion

Any athlete even suspected of suffering a concussion should be removed from the game or practice immediately. No athlete may return to activity after an apparent head injury or concussion, regardless of how mild it seems or how quickly symptoms clear, without medical clearance. Close observation of the athlete should continue for several hours. The new "Zackery Lystedt Law" in Washington now requires the consistent and uniform implementation of long and well-established return to play concussion guidelines that have been recommended for several years:

"a youth athlete who is suspected of sustaining a concussion or head injury in a practice or game shall be removed from competition at that time" and

"...may not return to play until the athlete is evaluated by a licensed health care provider trained in the evaluation and management of concussion and received written clearance to return to play from that health care provider".

You should also inform your child's coach if you think that your child may have a concussion. Remember its better to miss one game than miss the whole season. And when in doubt, the athlete sits out.
